TEN CENTS PER WEEK

BAPTISTS PLAN HOME FOR THEIR AGED MINISTERS

Conference of Kentucky and Tennessee Pastors is Held at Guthrie.

The Rev. E. C. Lewis Given Transfer.

REVIVAL AT AUDITORIUM RINK

Kentucky and Tennessee will cooperate in erecting an aged ministers' home for Baptist ministers to be most likely in this state. The first meeting of a committee appointed by the Kentucky State Baptist association recently was held yesterday at Guthrie, Ky., but no definite action taken in the matter. Definite action will likely be taken in October when the committee from Kentucky meets with the Tennessee committee in Nashville.

The advisability of erecting a home for ministers has been discussed time and again by the Baptist association and in order to arrive at some definite conclusion the Kentucky association last meeting appointed a committee of six ministers to meet. The meeting yesterday was attended by the Rev. M. E. Dodd, of Paducah; the Rev. W. D. Nowlin, of Mayfield; the Rev. C. M. Thompson, of Hopkinsville; the Rev. W. M. Stallings, of Smith's Grove; the Rev. J. D. Maddox, of Owensboro; and the Rev. J. D. Clardy, of Hopkinsville.

One site for the home has been proposed for Guthrie, Ky., which is on the Tennessee border. This, however, has not been decided upon and the Tennessee committee will probably have a site selected. At the meeting to be held next month the site will be chosen and steps taken at once towards erecting the building. It will cost in the neighborhood of $25,000 and will be for old ministers of the Baptist churches who have retired and are unable to depend upon themselves for support. The association is enthusiastic over the plans, which will be carried out this year.

The Revival.

Nearly 200 people from Mayfield attended the revival at the Auditorium rink last night. The building was filled. Mr. Curry sang several numbers effectively and the Rev. John Brown preached on "Be Sure Your Sins Will Find You Out." Services each night at 7:45.

The Rev. E. C. Lewis Transferred.
The Rev. E. C. Lewis, pastor of the Mechanicville Methodist church, has been transferred to the Indiana conference and will be stationed at Washington, Ind. During his pastorate here he has been very successful.

First Presbyterian.

It is probable that a minister will conduct communion service at the First Presbyterian church Sunday September 26. Conditions in Detroit make it impossible for the Rev. Angus Cameron, who was called to this church, to accept the pastorate.

West Union Association.

The Baptist Sunday School Union of the West Union association convened last night at the Friendship Baptist church, Lone Oak, with a large and enthusiastic attendance. Devotional exercises were led by the Rev. J. R. Stewart and Messrs. S. E. Peak and G. W. Potts told of "The Parent Problem in Sunday School Work." The exercises were brought to a close after a short sermon by the Rev. G. B. Smalley, pastor of the Second Baptist church of Paducah.

The meeting will be adjourned this afternoon, having been in session this morning. Reports from all Sunday schools in the association showed favorable attendance and each school was represented. Mr. A. M. Rouse is presiding over the convention. Officers for the union will be elected next month at Barlow when the regular convention of the western union association proper will be held. Program are being arranged for a successful convention there.

The program at the meeting today was carried out in full. It was as follows:

9:30. Devotional Services—Rev. J. P. Riley.
9:45. Adult Bible Class Movement—Miss May Ellis, Rev. T. V. Shoemaker.

NO CROSS INDEX DECEIVED POOL

HE SUES HIRAM SMEDLEY AND BONDING COMPANY FOR $2,000 DAMAGES.

Failure to cross index a mortgage is the basis on which a suit was filed by S. P. Pool against Hiram Smedley and his bondsmen, the Title Guaranty & Surety company for $2,000 damages. Pool alleges on August 29, 1906, a mortgage covering a one-third interest in the Paducah Undertaking company was filed in the county clerk's office by L. O. Stephenson to his wife, Jennie Stephenson. He says that Smedley or his deputy failed to cross index the mortgage, and on November 15, 1906, he examined the index and failed to find the mortgage. On the strength he says he purchased the one-third interest from Stephenson for $2,100. Since then the company has made an assignment and Pool says Stephenson is insolvent, and seeks to recover $2,000 from Smedley or his bondsmen for the alleged error. The suit was filed by Attorneys Burns & Burns.

INSURANCE MAN STOPS FIRE CAUSED BY A PIPE

When Joe Swift, of Fourth and Madison streets, threw the ashes out of his pipe this morning he did not know he would set fire to his house. A few sparks fell in the cracks of the porch, and several hours later were fanned into a blaze. F. B. Smith, an insurance agent, passed the house and saw the fire. With several buckets of water he extinguished the fire.

CANNONISM AND ALDRICHISM.

Blind Senator Sees a Chance for Democracy.

Oklahoma City, Okla., Sept. 17.—"Democracy's opportunity next year in the congressional campaigns lies in a systematic and effective opposition to Cannonism and Aldrichism, which means an opposition to the interests they represent and a fight for the people," said Senator Thomas P. Gore. "Aldrich doubtless will be a central figure again this winter, by championing a pet measure of his looking to the establishment of a great central bank, I can only interpret his methods as meaning that his ultimate object of such a measure would be to make the National City bank of New York a Standard Oil institution, the government's central place of doing business."

PULLMAN COMPANY IS SUED FOR BIG DAMAGES

Alleging that she was ejected from her sleeping berth and forced to stand in the cool night air and complete her journey in a day coach, Mrs. Douglas Hughes filed suit against the Pullman company for $2,000 damages. She alleges that she went to Texas for the benefit of her health, and had recovered when on February 14, she purchased a ticket on the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe railroad from Goldwaite to Cleburn, Texas, a distance of 200 miles. She also purchased a berth in the Pullman coach, and retired about 8:30 o'clock. At 1 o'clock in the morning she says employees woke her and forced her to leave the berth without giving her time to dress. At Temple, Texas, she was forced to stand in the cool night air and finally had to enter the day coach in order to complete her journey. Her health was damaged permanently to the extent of $1,500, and she was obliged to pay $500 for physicians' services, and seeks to recover damages.

The next session of the bankers will be held at Los Angeles. The bankers went on record today as opposed to the Postal Savings banks and deposit guarantee. This action was taken when Chairman Reynolds read his report of the committee on federal legislation. He called the guarantee "socialistic and subversive." The convention was in a dispute over the proposition of national banks to ask permission to handle savings deposits, the savings banks bitterly fighting the proposition.

Emmett Peyton was awarded the custody of his child yesterday by County Judge Lightfoot, but before possession could be secured it was necessary to take the child from its grandmother. Peyton and his wife have had much domestic trouble, and a divorce suit is now pending in circuit court, while the couple has been in police court. W. M. Oliver, Hiram Smedley, E. B. Wren, James Mitchell, R. H. Ward, Warren Hunt and John W. Ogilvie filed suit against Charles C. Parker, J. J. Sanderson, assignee of R. A. Hays & company, and Ben. Newton Utley Agrees to Await Judge's Ruling

Louisville, Sept. 17. (Special.)—By agreement between former State Senator Newton Utley, of Lyon county, and Attorneys Walter Krone, of Kuttawa, Wheeler Campbell, of Louisville, and Carl Henderson, of Marion, it is settled that no steps will be taken by Mr. Utley to press his damage suit against the attorneys until Federal Judge Walter Evans has passed upon the appeal of the defendants to transfer the case from the Lyon circuit court to the federal court. Mr. Utley was named in several night rider cases in federal court as defendant. In a suit filed in the circuit court of Lyon county, over which Judge Thomas Cook presides, Mr. Utley made the allegation that he is dragged into the case, not because he is thought to have had any connection with the night riders, but for the purpose of getting a settlement. Henry Bennett was named as defendant, but since the late Judge Bigger was grand master, and feel that Paducah is entitled to the honor and will go after it with all the vim and push that they can command.

Cardinal Satelli Ill.

BISHOP WM. McCLOSKEY IS NO MORE

OFFICIAL HEAD OF CATHOLIC CHURCH DIOCESE OF LOUISVILLE.

END CAME PEACEFULLY THIS MORNING AT HIS HOME.

Louisville, Ky., Sept. 17. (Special.)—Bishop William George McCloskey, of the Catholic diocese of Louisville, died this morning at 7 o'clock at Preston Park Seminary, near Louisville, as the result of gradual lessening of vital forces. He had not been ill, but simply had been wasting away for some time. Not until Sunday was it evident that his end was near. The bishop retained consciousness through out and his mind was clear until just before the end, when he dropped into a peaceful sleep, passing away a few minutes later. He had been bishop of the diocese of Louisville 49 years and was the oldest Catholic prelate in the United States. He leaves a sister, Miss Mary McCloskey, who lived with him on the Newburg road near Louisville.

Until the bishop's successor is chosen, Vicar-General Cronin, of Louisville, will have charge of the affairs of the diocese.

Bishop McCloskey was born in Brooklyn and was 85 years old. There are no arrangements for the funeral. It is the belief an eastern man will succeed him.

Bishop McCloskey was well known in Paducah, as the Louisville diocese comprises all of Kentucky west of the Kentucky river. He had been unable to make frequent trips to the city for several years owing to failing strength. His last visit was in 1907, when the twenty-fifth jubilee of the Rev. Father Jansen was celebrated. His death was expected in Paducah, but when the news was received this morning it shocked his people.

He was born in Brooklyn, N. Y., in 1823, and his preparatory training for the priesthood was received at Mount St. Mary's college at Emmettsburg, N. Y. For a short time he was assistant priest at the Church of Nativity in New York. He was a professor in his alma mater, when in 1859 he was called to Rome, where he became the first president of the American college. Until 1868 he was the president, when he was appointed bishop of the Louisville diocese of the Cincinnati province. Since his appointment he served for 41 years in a manner that gained him honor and the respect of the world. The honor of being the oldest Catholic prelate in the United States gave him much distinction. He did much for the uplifting of the diocese, and was a constant worker and faithful in his visits to the churches under his charge. For years his health has been breaking, but his indomitable will kept him up.

The official news of the death of Bishop McCloskey was received at 12:30 o'clock this afternoon by the Rev. Father H. A. Connolly, pastor of the St. Francis de Sales church, in a telegram from the Rev. Father J. P. Cronin, vicar-general, of Louisville. The bishop was known intimately by Father Connolly, who was ordained by him, and since has been in his diocese. He learned several days ago that Bishop McCloskey was in a critical condition, and the news of his death was not a surprise. No details of the funeral have been received, but it is probable that Father Connolly will attend the funeral and burial.

It is thought that the funeral will not be held before the first of next week and the funeral will probably be held in the Cathedral.

It is expected that his funeral will be attended by many bishops and the pontifical mass may be said by an archbishop. Masses will be said throughout the diocese in his memory. The burial place is unknown, although it is customary to bury a bishop in his diocese. Bishop McCloskey has a brother buried in Nazareth, in Nelson county, while he has relatives residing in New York. One sister, Miss Mary McCloskey, resided in Louisville.

As to who will be his successor it is difficult to say. The diocese has not had a coadjutor bishop since his appointment, and nobody is known as being directly in line for bishop. The vicar-general is the next office in power. The power of naming the next bishop rests with the cardinals and their selection must be approved by the pope.

Bishop McCloskey was known as a pious man with heart full of sympathy, and his life was filled with deeds of charity, which were done without pomp. He had a word of kind greeting for everybody and his devotion to his church throughout such a long period made him great.

WATCHES ROBBERS WHILE THEY LOOT

AFRAID TO GIVE ALARM UNTIL THEY LEFT BANK AND MADE THEIR ESCAPE.

Stronghurst, Ill., Sept. 17.—The First National bank here was robbed early today of $700 in cash and other valuables by five men, who escaped on horseback. There is no clue. The robbers were seen at work by a man sleeping over the bank, but he was too afraid to give the alarm before their departure. Besides the cash they secured two gold watches, a diamond ring, many stamps and money and stamps belonging to the government, deposited in the bank by the postmaster last night in a vault after the bank safe was closed for the night. The booty was all from the vault. The safe was not attempted.

DECEIVED THE SHERIFF.

Three Men Release Allen Henderson From Jail.

Byrdstown, Tenn., Sept. 17.—Three men, one of them tied with a rope, appeared at the jail here Monday night, and securing entrance on the plea that the roped man had been arrested for a grave crime, succeeded in liberating Allen Henderson, under sentence of assault with intent to commit murder in the first degree. The sheriff was deceived into believing the men with the roped prisoner were officers. When Henderson ran out two of the men held pistols in the sheriff's face, and later all three left and took to their horses. It is supposed the liberators were Henderson's friends from Kentucky.

Second Strike Ends

Pittsburgh, Sept. 17.—The second strike ended today. The American workmen marched from O'Donovan's bridge to the works. Many foreigners followed and others are expected to late today.

No Fight in New York

New York, Sept. 17.—The fight between Stanley Ketchell and Sam Langford, which was scheduled to be held before the Fairmont Athletic club in this city tonight, was declared off today by the directors of the club and President William Gibson. This action was taken after Gov. Hughes had requested District Attorney Jerome and Sheriff Foley to enforce the law against prize fighting and to arrest and convict any violating it. Up to that time the officers of the club had planned to hold the fight under the shelter of an injunction of the court restraining the police from entering its premises.
